

Scholastic Book Fairs welcomes

Ed Masesa

www.edmasesa.com

Tuesday, October 24

Preorder your books today!

Have them signed by the author during the event.

About the author:

Ed Masesa was raised in New Jersey as one of 10 children. Now he lives in the sweltering swamp of Florida with his wife. Ed ascribes to the philosophy 'growing old is mandatory, growing up is optional.' He spent the last two decades at Scholastic Book Fairs, devoted to finding books that will turn every child into a life-long reader. He believes writing is a craft that takes time, patience, and many revisions. His recent release Wandmaker's Apprentice is the second book of the duology that are companion novels to his New York Times bestseller The Wandmaker's Guidebook, published in 2006. His first picture book is Scarecrow Magic.